About the Gallery

The Red Deer Arts Council Community Gallery is operated by the Red Deer Arts Council (RDAC) and features 36 linear feet of wall space and a north-facing street-level window (on a raised platform) in which art can be displayed facing in or out.

A gallery floorplan image is below. The gallery has two (2) floor-height and two (2) table-top display easels for displaying works off the walls, but within the space. Ten (10) plinths of varying sizes are available for 3D artworks in the gallery space, all are painted white. Suspending artwork from the ceiling is not possible. Attaching art to the Green Screen wall is not possible, artworks can be displayed on easels in front, if needed. Artists/Makers are responsible for insurance coverage of their work while on display in the gallery space.

The RDAC Community Gallery Committee oversees the operations of the Community Gallery. This gallery is dedicated to presenting works by students, emerging, early career, and artists/makers and organizations, including those from under-represented communities in Red Deer and Central Alberta.

Artist Fees are not available for this gallery, but all works may be offered for sale by the artist/maker. RDAC staff will connect interested parties to the artist/maker to complete any sales. When delivering works to be displayed, packing materials must be taken by the artist/maker as there is no storage available.

There is no funding available for travel expenses or shipping costs. Several exhibitions during the calendar year are organized with community groups to tell their stories within our walls. Installation times are on Mondays.

Gallery viewing hours vary according to the time of year but are a minimum of 20 hours per week.
